

Social Marketing in a breeze

Agenda

1. Why? Accountability

2. Why? Relationships

3. Digital Channels

4. Content Creation

5. Example

6. Conclusion

Accountability

- City
- Funder
- Donor
- Gardener

Build Relationships

- Neighbor
- Volunteer
- Supporter
- Donor
- Collaborator

Channels & Tools

1.

FACEBOOK

- Facebook individual account
- Facebook page
- Facebook group

2.

EMAIL

- Google Form: collect email
- Gmail: filter, label
- Mailchimp

Content Creation

- Goal and Year plan
- Achievement
- Rainbow
- Silver lining
- Management routine
- Gathering
- Use of AI (eg. ChatGPT)
- Annual report

Facebook

- Reach out to new users through Facebook Group
- Invite users to like your page
- Device a content plan and post regularly
- A group of editors vs Guest editor

From Facebook to Email

- Facebook limitation: no direct contact
- Goal: collect user's email addresses for targeted communication
- Post a Google Form for activity registration

Email Marketing

What's inside?

- Email list management
- Send Facebook post to user's by email
- Use free email tools to track effectiveness, eg Mailchimp

Example 1

- Reach out to over 50 people from 7 municipalities interested in organizing community gardens.
- The Facebook post was shared to 27 Facebook groups, reaching out to thousands of people

COMMUNITY GARDEN ROUNDTABLE Session 3

A meeting to strengthen networking among different community garden initiatives in the Capital Region

Monday
18TH
November
12:00PM - 1:30PM

Where?
The DOCK Centre for Social Impact
Port Meeting Room

REGISTER NOW

Example 2

- Accountability and Transparency
- I used a blog website to record my activity as an elected student representative in the Academic Council of a post-secondary institution
- I compiled a 20-page report to the Council and my constituency at the end of my term.

About Me

Contact Me

Work Report (2022-2023)
(Aug 27)

Progress Update (up to Jan 28)

Conclusion

- Be accountable and transparent
- Build relationships with community members
- Facebook for reaching out
- Email for targeted communications

